

Recommended Resources

A curated list offered as a starting point for adult adoptees & birth family.

Books

An Adoptee Lexicon

Karen Pickell, 2018

A glossary of adoption terminology from the viewpoint of an adult adoptee which intersperses personal commentary and snippets from her own experience with history and statistics pertaining to child development and the adoption industry.

The Adoption Mystique: A Hard Hitting Exposé of The Powerful Negative Social Stigma That Permeates Child Adoption In The United States

Joanne Wolf Small, 2007

"The Adoption Mystique exposes, documents and confronts the effects of negative social stigma on adoption institutions, practices, adopted persons, adoptive and birthparents. It is a timely counterpoint to the misinformation and prejudices that created and maintain the myths of adoption."

The Adoptee Survival Guide: Adoptees Share Their Wisdom and Tools 1st Edition

Lynn Grubb, 2015

"Thirty adoptee authors provide support, encouragement and understanding to other adoptees in facing the complexities of being adopted, embarking on search and reunion, fighting for equal access to identifying information, navigating complex family relationships with the latest technology, and surviving it with a sense of humor."

Adoption Nation

Adam Pertman, 2000

"With compassion for adopted individuals and adoptive and birth parents alike, Adam Pertman explores the history and human impact of adoption, explodes the corrosive myths surrounding it, and tells compelling stories about its participants as they grapple with issues relating to race, identity, equality, discrimination, personal history, and connections with all their families."

The Adoption Reunion Survival Guide

Julie Jarrell Bailey and Lynn N. Giddens, M.A., 2001

A manual for preparing for search, reunion and beyond. Manual for searching is dated, but the discussion surrounding adoption reunion is timeless.

American Baby: A Mother, A Child, and the Shadow History of Adoption

Gabrielle Glaser, 2021

The shocking truth about postwar adoption in America, told through the bittersweet story of one teenager, the son she was forced to relinquish, and their search to find each other

Birthbond: Reunions Between Birthparents and Adoptees, What Happens After

Judith S. Gediman and Linda P. Brown, 1991

Essential reading for anyone involved in an adoption reunion. Helps the reader understand the emotions involved in the post-reunion experience.

Birthfathers and Their Adoption Experiences

Gary Clapton, 2002

"Discussing different notions of fatherhood, such as biological paternity, social fatherhood, sperm donorship and the 'father figure', this informative book – the first on birth fathers in adoption – brings new light to issues such as the decision to give up a child for adoption, the child's desire to find his or her birth parents, and the facilitation of contact in later life."

 Available for purchase through Adoption Network Cleveland

 Available in the Adoption Network Cleveland lending library

Birthright: the Guide to Search and Reunion

Jean Strauss, 1994

Acclaimed documentary filmmaker shares her own search story along with dozens of others. Also packed with important reference sources.

Black Anthology: Adult Adoptees Claim Their Space (The AN-YA Project)

"This anthology allows for the opportunity to see the rich diversity of a people; the uniqueness within the individual stories. Inside this book, you will read the depth of struggle, and the pure grace, dignity and accomplishments achieved, sometimes connected to the privileges afforded us while in the midst of insurmountable odds."

The Child Catchers: Rescue, Trafficking, and the New Gospel of Adoption

Kathryn Joyce, 2013

Examines how "adoption has become entangled in the conservative Christian agenda as a reflection of pro-life initiatives, explaining how child and family well-being has become a lesser priority in a market increasingly driven by profit and religious ideology."

The Girls Who Went Away

Ann Fessler, 2006

Birthmothers share their stories in their own words. A searing and important glimpse of a long overlooked social history, bringing to the page the lifelong emotions common to many birthmothers.

In Their Own Voices: Transracial Adoptees Tell Their Stories

Rita J. Simon and Rhonda M. Roorda, 2000

A collection of interviews with black and biracial young adults who were adopted by white parents.

It's Not About You: Understanding Adoptee Search, Reunion and Open Adoption

Brooke Randolph LMHC, 2016

It's Not About You is an adoptee-focused anthology project intended to comfort those who fear the desire for information and connection is any kind of judgement on themselves. Our purpose is also to confront those who try to make it about themselves, missing the opportunity to support and connect with the adoptee who needs this information.

Journeys After Adoption: Understanding Lifelong Issues

Jayne Schooler and Betsie Norris, Founder of Adoption Network Cleveland, 2002

Drawing on the experiences of dozens of triad members, the authors offer insight into the concerns, issues, joys and pain experienced by those whose lives are framed by adoption.

Lost and Found: The Adoption Experience

Betty Jean Lifton, 1979

An excellent book about the issues of growing up in a closed adoption.

Lost Daughters: Writing Adoption From a Place of Empowerment and Peace (Paperback)

Amanda H.L. Transue-Woolston (Author), Julie Stromberg (Editor), Karen Pickell (Editor), Jennifer Anastasi (Editor), 2014

"Lost Daughters is written and edited entirely by adopted women, several of whom balance multiple roles in adoption and foster care along with being adopted. The Lost Daughters mission is to bring readers the perspectives and narratives of adopted women, and to highlight their strength, resiliency, and wisdom."

Outsiders Within: Writing on Transracial Adoption Paperback

Jane Jeong Trenka (Editor), Julia Chinyere Oparah (Editor), Sun Yung Shin (Editor), 2006

"Moving beyond personal narrative, these transracially adopted writers from around the world tackle difficult questions about how to survive the racist and ethnocentric worlds they inhabit, what connects the countries relinquishing their children to the countries importing them, why poor families of color have their children removed rather than supported—about who, ultimately, they are. In their inquiry, they unseat conventional understandings of adoption politics, ultimately reframing the controversy as a debate that encompasses human rights, peace, and reproductive justice.”

The Primal Wound

Nancy Newton Verrier, 1993

A revolutionary book which examines the effect of early separation on the adoptee.

Seven Core Issues in Adoption and Permanency

Sharon Kaplan Roszia & Allison Davis Maxon, 2019

A comprehensive guide to promoting understanding and healing in adoption, foster care, kinship families and third-party reproduction.

Shattered Bonds: The Color of Child Welfare

Dorothy Roberts, 2003

Illustrates the disproportionate representation of black children in the U.S. foster care system and its effects on black communities and the country.

Memoirs

Finding Fish

Antwone Fisher, 2001

The true story of man who, as a child, endured near-constant verbal and physical abuse in foster care, yet, becomes a sought after poet and screenwriter in Hollywood.

Growing Up Black in White

Kevin D. Hofmann, 2010

A memoir of how a biracial adoptee grew to create his own identity after being adopted by a white minister and his family during the tumultuous 1960s in Detroit.

The Language of Blood

Jane Jeong Trenka, 2003

“An adoptee’s search for identity takes her on a journey from Minnesota to Korea and back as she seeks to resolve the dualities that have long defined her life: Korean-born, American-raised, never fully belonging to either.”

Like Family: Growing Up in Other People’s Houses, a Memoir

Paula McClain, 2003

This powerful and haunting memoir details the years Paula and her two sisters spent as foster children after being abandoned by both parents in California in the early 1970s.

Lost and Found: A Memoir of Mothers

Kate St. Vincent Vogl, 2009

Touching, true story of an adoptee who is found by her birthmother when she least expected it.

Surrendered Child: A Birthmother’s Journey

Karen Salyer McElmurray, 2004

“With unflinching honesty, McElmurray recounts both the painful surrendering and the surprise rediscovery of her son, juxtaposed with her portrayal of her own mother, who could not provide the love she needed. The dramatic result is a story of birthright lost and found and an exploration of the meaning of motherhood itself.”

DNA

The Family Guide to DNA and Genetic Genealogy

Blaine T. Bettinger, Revised 2019

A one-stop resource guide to better understand genetic genealogy. What DNA tests are available, with up-to-date pros and cons of the major testing companies and advice on choosing the right test to meet your needs. Understand ethnicity estimates & haplogroup designations, navigate suggested cousin matches and use third-party tools to analyze data.

Inheritance: A Memoir of Genealogy, Paternity and Love

Dani Shapiro, 2019

Memoir about identity, paternity and family secrets—a real-time exploration of the staggering discovery made through DNA about her father and that she was donor conceived, and her struggle to piece together the hidden story of her own life.
